Cuba Puts CIA In Bolivia Coup

Cuba has charged that the Central Intelligence Agency executed the recent coup in Bolivia with the support of Brazil, Argentina and Paraguay.

The Ambassadors of Brazil, Argentina, Paraguay and Bolivia angrily denied the accusations in the UN yesterday and made countercharges. The U. S. remained silent.

"Fascism has momentarilly triumphed in Bolivia," Cuban Ambassador Ricardo Alarcon Quesada told the General Assembly. He said also that his country will never rejoin the Organization of American States. NY POST 10/13/71
